the author of how asia works follows the money alarming enlightening joe studwell should be named chief myth buster for asian business financial times hong kong and southeast asia are home to five hundred million people yet their economies are dominated by only fifty families whose interests range from banking to real estate shipping to sugar gambling to lumber at their peak eight of the world s two dozen richest men were southeast asian but their names would not be familiar to most regular readers of the wall street journal a complex mythology surrounds these billionaires but in asian godfathers joe studwell finds that the facts are even more remarkable than the myths studwell has spent fifteen years as a reporter in the region and he marshals his unprecedented sources to paint intimate and revealing portraits of the men who control southeast asia studwell also provides us with a rich and deep understanding of the broader historic economic and political influences that have shaped southeast asia over the past 150 years asian godfathers is a riveting and illuminating book that lifts the curtain on a world of staggering secrecy and hypocrisy and reveals for the first time who the leaders of one of the planet's most important and tumultuous markets really are why they got to the top and how they keep themselves there the romp around the region's pleasure domes is a blast the wall street journal asia in 1960 the gdp per capita of southeast asian countries was nearly half of that of africa by 1986 the gap had closed and today the trend is reversed with more than half of the world's poorest now living in sub saharan africa why has asia developed while africa lagged the asian aspiration chronicles the stories of explosive growth and changing fortunes the leaders events and policy choices that lifted a billion people out of abject poverty within a single generation the largest such shift in human history the relevance of asia's example comes as africa is facing a population boom which can either lead to crisis or prosperity and as asia is again transforming this time out of low cost manufacturing into hi tech leaving a void that is africa's for the taking far from the optimistic determinism of africa rising this book calls for unprecedented pragmatism in the pursuit of african success

40 or 50 families control the economies of hong kong singapore thailand the philippines and indonesia their interests range from banking to property from shipping to sugar from vice to gambling 13 of the 50 richest families in the world are in south east asia yet they are largely unknown outside confined business circles often this is because they control the press and television as well as everything else how do they do it what are their secrets and is it good news or bad for the places where they operate joe studwell explosively lifts the lid on a world of staggering secrecy and shows that the little most people know is almost entirely wrong on 9 january 1972 the mighty queen elizabeth then the largest liner in the world caught fire in hong kong harbor watched by millions around the world she burned live on television including on britain's children's program blue peter this book examines the emergence of different forms of capitalism in central eastern states in europe and mekong states within the association of southeast asian nations asean all of them but thailand have historically disappeared from the regional maps for long periods of time due to colonial or imperial rule most of them were previously members of a soviet type economy and they all joined asean or the european union in the 1990s or in the 2000s these states are characterized by a strong urge toward feelings of national sovereignty due to their experiences with colonialism and imperialism but due to the regional economic pressures and the globalization dynamic these states cannot articulate protectionist policies they are forced to open their economies in order to attract foreign direct investments this results in less regulated and more political forms of capitalism than in some more developed capitalist countries this book analyzes forms of capitalism as the arising from a combination of three conditions the legacy of the foreign occupations the national construction process of the sovereign state and lastly the dynamics of regional integration these states claims to national sovereignty and the manner in which they developed suggests a causative link between the forms of political domination that have presided over these transformations and the forms of capitalism that have resulted work well in today's high growth emerging markets in this book leading global value investor Jeffrey Towson extends and modernizes value investing helping you apply its core principles while you access tremendous opportunities available in today's fastest growing markets. Towson introduces the powerful Value Point System that grows out of his experience on the elite investing team selected by Prince Alwaleed bin Abdulaziz Al Saud. While retaining Graham's relentless focus on price and quality, he shows how to integrate three crucial additional forms of value into your stock assessments: the value of political access in a government-infused investment world, the value of reputation in a world of colliding markets, actors and biases, and the value of capabilities in a multi-local world. Building on these techniques, Towson presents a complete investment playbook for the next five years. Next, he shows how to invest for the next twenty years successfully navigating the titanic market collisions that will batter investors who aren't prepared for them.

Industrial clusters in Silicon Valley, Hsinchu Park, Northern Italy, and around Cambridge, UK, have captured the imagination of policymakers, researchers, city planners, and business people. Where clusters take root, they can generate valuable spillovers, promote innovation, and create the critical industrial mass for sustained growth. By synthesizing the essential conditions and policies responsible for the dynamism of successful clusters, this volume delineates both the conditions which contributed to past successes and also how the reading of this experience is being used to seed new clusters in Singapore, Bangalore, and Seoul. The volume sheds fresh light on the promise of clusters, the challenges facing policymakers, and the track record to date of progress with promising new starts.
